Work Experience

Lewis Stanton is a several-time CEO including most recently the CEO of E Team, a collaborative software company which had experienced years of losses and minimal growth prior to his joining. Under his leadership, the Company's revenues grew at greater than 100% per annum and it became profitable and cash flow positive.

Stanton was the COO and CFO of a public technology company. In this capacity, he grew the company's high margin revenues by 300% in less than three years, and also took the company from $10 million in annual losses to profitability. He has also been a turnaround CEO for other technology companies.

Earlier in his career, Stanton was at Arthur Andersen where he ran the Firm's capital markets practice in the US Southwest. His clients included several Fortune 500 companies. In London, Stanton's functional specialty was international finance, and he has worked in several parts of the world. Since leaving Andersen, Stanton has managed operations in financial services, technology, and other industries. Additionally, he founded and ran a mutual fund company, and he was also the President of a securities industry trade association.
